SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of 1937, 106 sailors boarded the S. S. Rochester. Of this number, 41 weathered the storm and remained to graduate in 1941.

The midshipmen organized in October 1939, and chose Miss Hoopen-gardner as their commander. The following gobs were elected as officers: Don Stout, president; Fred Zellers, vice-president; Bob Bigler, secretary; and Margaret Gregory, treasurer.

The graduating class of '41 launched their entrance into school activities April 23, 1940 by presenting the class play, "You're the Doctor."

On May 22 the members of the 1940 class were honored with a reception by the juniors held at the Colonial Hotel.

In the fall of the senior year, other shipmates were elected as officers. They were Don Stout, president; Fred Zellers, vice-president; Bob Bigler, secretary; and Kathleen Fore, treasurer. The class play, "The Mummy and the Mumps," was presented October 22, 1940.

On May 23, the senior class was entertained by the juniors at a prom at the Colonial Hotel and Gardens. The following Sunday Rev. George Long gave the address at the baccalaureate services in the Methodist Church. The commencement exercises were held at the Whitmer Gym on May 29 with the Hon. Rodney H. Brandon as the speaker.

The class was well represented in extra-curricular activities, especially in basketball where eight sweaters were awarded. Margaret Gregory was given the D. A. R. good citizenship award. The senior honor roll is as follows:

Don Stout, Valedictorian	4.11
Pat Krieghbaum	3.93
Fred Zellers	3.78
Margaret Gregory	3.75
Joanne Miller	3.53

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

In September, 1938, 121 freshmen embarked on the good ship Rochester for a four year voyage to Higher Learning. The ship encountered bad weather the first two years out; and by the time the third year was started, 32 members of the crew were missing. During this year Miss Barrett was chosen navigator; Jean Emmons, captain; Selena Peterson, first mate; Jean Gohn, registrar; and Clyde Bick, purser. Numerous stops were made to reimburse the treasury. The ship hove to port only twice: the first time, a cast was chosen from the crew to present the play, "Hobgoblin House," on April 22; the second time the entire crew entertained members of the graduating class at a prom held on May 23.

The senior class play, "The Mummy and the Mumps," was presented at the Whitmer gymnasium, Tuesday evening, October 22. The play was directed by Miss Marshall, the dramatics teacher.

Sir Hector Fish, an English archaeologist who is supposed to arrive at the Fennela Girl's School and become a teacher, is detained in New York in quarantine with the mumps; however he gets into the mummy case and expresses himself to the school. Meanwhile, Brisky Briscoe, a friend of William Laidlaw, arrives at the school and impersonates Sir Hector. The many perplexing identities cause the affair to become quite complicated. In the end, everyone's true identity is discovered, and everybody is satisfied, that is, except Racker, who wants to know what's become of the mummy!

Thrills and laughter predominated in the Whitmer Gym, April 22, when the junior class presented "Hobgoblin House," under the direction of Miss Barrett, class sponsor.

Miss Priscilla Carter, peeved because her two nieces have fallen in love with two "silly young nincompoops," purchases the grim old Hobgood House in the foothills of the Ozarks. In this seclusion she plans safe retreat where the girls shall not see their lovers for six months—or the penalty of being disinherited. As luck would have it, they arrive on the night that old Bluebeard Bronson, who once committed a murder, is supposed to visit the house. And what a mess they get into—ghosts and ghostly doings everywhere, but in the end the villains are captured and the lovers are reunited.

STATION R. H. S.

Station R. H. S. has done much to increase the spirit and pep of the school. This year, with Miss Lichtenwalter as admiral and Pat Krieghbaum at the helm, the staff's course took in a new stretch of ocean.

Among the accomplishments on this journey were the ordering of staff jewelry, a party at North Judson for the staffs of school papers in the northern section of Indiana, chili suppers, and sponsoring a dance.

The entire crew have been faithful seamen in the task of piloting Station R. H. S. to port after an interesting and successful year.

ORCHESTRA

Seventeen members of the crew of R. H. S. have given of their time to travel farther in the course of music, with Miss Thomson in command.

During the year one program was given in the assembly and one selection was presented at commencement.

Three members of this organization will graduate.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club, which from its beginning has been a very popular organization, is composed of twenty-six singing sailors commanded by Miss Edith Thomson. Throughout the year, especially at Christmas, they have given impressive programs for various clubs and the school. Music for baccalaureate and commencement services was provided by the Glee Club.

R. H. S. BAND

Our band, having traveled the nine knots of the Sea of Activities, reviews the year's voyage on this page of its log.

The major activity of the year was a drive for new uniforms. To assist this campaign, a Band-Parents Club was formed.

The band did not attend any spring contests as it was decided to contribute this money to the uniform fund.

Those at the helm for this voyage were as follows:

Captain	.	.	.	.	.	Mr. Fiscus
First Mate	.	.	.	.	.	Leo Feece
Second Mate	.	.	.	.	.	Charles Spohn

HI-Y CLUB

The Hi-Y Club, under the sponsorship of Captain Purdue, was directed this year by the following officers: Jim Shelton, first mate; Don Stout, petty officer; Bob Cessna, mess sergeant; and Edward Miller, purser.

As in former years, the club held fall and spring treasure hunts. To welcome in 1941, the members sponsored a New Year's Eve dance in the gym.

In addition to the bi-weekly bean suppers, which were held in the galley, there was an Alumni Banquet to which each club member invited a former Hi-Y shipmate. Some of the speakers at the bean suppers were Rev. McGee, Dr. Berkebile, and Mr. Earl Burgett.

AIRPLANE CLUB

The Airplane Club was established in January, 1941, by Admiral Perry of the Pensicola Air Base. The club has been steered by George Bowers, who holds all jobs from captain to deck boy.

The purpose of the Airplane Club is to interest more boys in modeling and flying airplanes.

The first flying contest was held April 20.

John Taylor is the only senior cadet.

GIRL RESERVES

The Girl Reserve organization again completed a very successful voyage under the sponsorship of Miss Adams and Chief Officer Margaret Gregory.

Jean Emmons, welfare chairman, and her committee distributed baskets at Thanksgiving and food and four trees at Christmas.

Thirty new members enlisted for service in November. They were given the usual rough and formal initiation. All survived the tests and became able members of the service.

In addition to the bi-weekly community suppers and a Mothers' and Daughters' Tea, the club sponsored the Christmas school dance.

Officers of 1940-1941 were: president, Margaret Gregory; vice-president, Helen Werner; secretary, Jean Gohn; treasurer, Grace Brown; welfare chairman, Jean Emmons; program chairman, Betty Jennens.

THE 1940 RECEPTION

Attention by way of the high seas—The S. S. Rochester docked at Colonial Hotel and Terrace Gardens on Lake Manitou, May 22, 1940, for the annual Junior-Senior Prom.

"Gone With the Wind" was the prom theme. Charming, old-fashioned, Southern hospitality was in full sway. Captain Don Stout hospitably gave the welcome to Twelve Oaks; John Taylor responded from Tara. Miss Wright's after dinner subject was "Tradition," following which Mr. Purdue spoke on "Transition." Mr. Rankin, closing the dinner program, talked on "Realization."

Following dinner the guests enjoyed dancing in the Terrace Gardens to the music of Dick Derf and his Colonians.

The Zebras again had a fifty-fifty season this year. Including tournament competition, the Lylemen triumphed in thirteen games and went down bravely with the ship in thirteen others. Rochester's cagesters scored 812 points in these encounters, holding their opponents to only 718. The Zebras defeated Peru and Wabash to win the Rochester Invitational Tourney and captured sectional tourney honors during the three-day session held in Whitmer gymnasium. Starless nights in Rochester's 1940-41 campaign were two losing streaks, one of five games during November and December and one of four tilts in February.

Maytime graduation exercises will take seven varsity members from the squad: Stout, Zellers, Bigler, Cessna, Richards, Bemenderfer, and Charles Killion. Out of the first twelve, Coach Lyle will retain King, DuBois, Stansbury, Jack Killion, and Callahan, who played most of the season with the B team Colts.

Fred Zellers won this year's free throw award, bombarding the nets for 61 foul pitches out of 79 attempted for a 78.4 percentage, one of the best averages in Indiana. Zellers, Bigler, and Stout acted as co-captains during the current hardwood season.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC LEAGUE

G. A. L. activities on Whitmer deck found Queen Basketball the most popular Friday P. M. diversion. Badminton, deck tennis, and volleyball were popular with girls on the S. S. Rochester.

Skipper Patty Krieghbaum captained the club with Marcelle Reddick and Jean Emmons as able petty officers. Miss Hoopengardner was the sponsor-admiral.

Passengers, can you recall the tennis match with Plymouth, Snyder's invincible volleyball team, the Carr basketball league winner, and State League playday at John Adams, South Bend?

CLASS WILL

S O S———All hands on deck! S. S. Rochester in distress. As the senior crew embarks on the Sea of Life, they cast overboard all unnecessary burdens to lighten their cargo. Following are the personal bequeaths:

Deverle Abbott lays aside his artistic ability for the joy of the art class, Bob Neighbor.

Charles Killion casts off his come-hither smile to Nelson Gurnee. May he make as much use of it as Sailor Killion.

Keith Barts gently lowers his love for the guitar to Gordon Shaw.

Fred Zellers casts aside his free throw ability to Ward McCarty.

Emerson Enyart wills his curly hair to Dale Olinger.

Margaret Gregory lays aside her intelligence to Peg Barrett, if she thinks she can use it!

Dale Milliser slings his love for argument to the ever-quiet Doyne Hoover.

Kathleen Fore solemnly returns her Hi-Y pin to Joe Stansbury.

Jack Overmyer throws overboard his journalistic ability to Jim Overmyer—just to keep it in the family.

John Richards regretfully lays aside Ella McGlothin to anyone who is sucker enough to try to take her away from him.

John Taylor casts off his very blond hair to Hadden Stewart.

Bob Cessna throws away his perseverance in hinting for a steady girl to Bob Ross-Shannon.

Edward Miller bequeaths his shortness to Richard Booher.

Marietta Kindig gently lowers her love for out-of-town boys to Martha Day.

Don Stout tosses over his athletic ability to Dick King.

Bob Bigler flings aside his tennis ability to Bill Kriegbaum.

Barbara Newell throws overboard her ability to mold her hair into a beautiful coiffure to Lena McDaniels.

Pat Kriegbaum heaves over the rail her love for gossip to Lois Herendeen.

Helen Werner feeds to any poor fish who is unfortunate enough to be caught, her job as annual editor.

DeVon Graham gives his height to Bill Cessna.

Harvey Palmer wills his ability to dance to Paul Henriott.

Marjorie Fenstermaker calmly lays aside her primness to Martha Miller—may she make the best of it.

Lionel Young tosses aside his love for baseball to the Dizzy Dean of R. H. S., Gabby Young.

Dick Sherbondy kicks overboard his bowling ability to Jean Emmons.

Fred Bemenderfer wills his infatuation for Winamac to Joe Callahan.

Dixie Harvey bequeaths her tiny blondness to Mary Moore.

Kenneth Enyart heaves overboard his manly physique to Charles Spohn.

Dale Smiley relieves his headache of being student manager to Larry Braman.

Harold Moore casts aside his tenor voice to Bill Daggy.

Jean Neighbor slings her fast walk to Charles Boyce so he can catch up with the world.

John Wise throws overboard his sesquipedalian knack to Orval Jones, the boy of big words.

Lawrence Brown tosses his yell leading ability to anyone who might improve upon it.

Bette Miller casts aside her desire to wear cosmetics to Audria Vickery.

Harry Rush gives his typing accuracy to Marcele Reddick, as if she needs it.

Betty Carr lowers overboard her basketball playing to Betty Jennens.

Kathleen Emmons bequeaths her way of making girls envious with gorgeous engagement rings to Pearl Fancil.

Martha Jean Smith wills her quietness and poise to Donna Castleman.

Deloise Cunningham slides over the rail his shyness and his ability to blush to Selena Peterson.

Joanne Miller slings overboard her desire for mathematics to Leo Feece. Could he use it?

Vivian Thrush casts aside her love for grads to Margaret Wilhoit.

Westel Carr throws overboard his knack of turning corners on two wheels to Weldon Sherrard. Do you think he needs it?

CLASS PROPHECY

A wealth of talent far exceeding that stored in Davy Jones' locker is present in the 1941 crew of R. H. S. Therefore, knowing full well that the world expects much of them, the following glimpse into the future of the senior shipmates is presented:

Deverle Abbott, because of his brilliant oratorical abilities, will be offered a job of campaigning for the Bundles To Britain movement and will be heartily congratulated by Winston Churchill for his fine work.

Keith Barts will join Jimmy Dorsey's band and gradually take over the position of first saxophone, pushing Jimmy right out of the picture.

Fred Bemenderfer will take Hollywood by storm, but he will be continually chased by hordes of feminine autograph seekers. Robert Taylor doesn't stand a chance with Freddie!

Bob Bigler will win the Memorial Day auto races at Indianapolis in 1944. Unless the Buick gets him first!

Lawrence Brown will take a job as official Baby-Kisser in the presidential campaign of 1958, kissing only those babies over 18.

Betty Carr will become a great model in New York City, posing for all the leg ads.

Westel Carr will join the army and soon rise to the office of general, providing he sees no girls on his ascent.

Bob Cessna, another ladies-man, will overcome his bashfulness and devote his whole time to quoting romantic passages from Shakespeare.

Deloise Cunningham will settle down on a small farm and discover a method of taking the curl out of a pig's tail.

Kathleen Emmons will go to California and quickly be crowned the 1942 "Orange Queen."

Emerson Enyart will go into a life of seclusion, emerging at last with a new hair tonic that will take the curls out of anyone's hair, including Emerson's.

Kenneth Enyart will take up chemistry as a life work and discover 52 elements, proving that Miss Bushong's efforts weren't really a waste of time.

Marjorie Fenstermaker, because of her flaming red hair, will become a stand-in for Lana Turner, finally taking over the lead in all of the Sweater Girl's pictures.

Kathleen Fore will start a girl's band of her own and tour the country, becoming the most popular swing band organized.

DeVon Graham, because of his unlimited vocabulary, will write a volume of unabridged dictionaries along with a set or two of encyclopedias.

Margaret Gregory will graduate from Northwestern with highest honors, following which she will start a "Back to the Gay Nineties" movement.

Dixie Harvey will take a job selling refrigerators to the Eskimos, receiving much "cold" cash for her efforts.

Charles Killion will buy himself a Chinese junk and sail the seven seas, writing many popular novels about his adventures.

Marietta Kindig will become a second Florence Nightingale, taking over the job as head of all Red Cross nurses in the United States.

CLASS PROPHECY

Patty Kriegbaum will travel to the South Seas to sell grass skirts to the native girls. She will also do much demonstrating.

Bette Miller will become chief artist for the 1945 World's Fair, designing every art theme to be presented to the public.

Edward Miller, the prodigy child of R. H. S., will become a lawyer and soon rise to the honored post of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

Joanne Miller will become the champion debater of the United States. Well, at least of Indiana.

Dale Milliser will establish a new Olympic record for the 440 yard dash. That is, if the Olympics are ever held again!

Harold Moore will take over Lawrence Tibbett's position at the Metropolitan Opera in New York City.

Jean Neighbor will become the personal secretary of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, who will then be serving his sixth term as Chief Executive.

Barbara Newell will become the Dean of Women at Indiana University and will be loved by all the students for her geniality.

Jack Overmyer will become the Managing Editor of the New York Times, going to Europe in his spare time as a War Correspondent.

Harvey Palmer will be the one and only white man on the Championship Globe-Trotter Negro basketball team.

John Richards will take to the greens and become the nation's top-notch golf expert, winning the British Open and many other prized tournaments.

Dick Sherbondy will be the singles champion of the 1951 American Bowling Congress and for three successive years following.

Dale Smiley, due to his head for business, will become the manager of an exclusive hotel, the Waldorf-Astoria, in New York City.

Martha Jean Smith will be another Clara Barton and devote her entire life to the advancement of child welfare.

Don Stout, after graduating from Butler in 1945, will become head basketball coach at Notre Dame University.

John D. Taylor, by the time he is thirty, will have taken over the managership of the vast Armour Creamery plant in Chicago.

Vivian Thrush will start off on a career as a nurse, but soon find her true love and decide to get married and nurse one man instead of staying single and nursing hundreds.

Helen Werner, because of her brilliant work with the Manitou Ripples, will become the Editor-in-chief of Collier's Weekly.

John Wise will follow the long, hard road of a physician, specializing in bone surgery and big words.

Lionel Young will become the Chicago Cub's manager in 1953 and will win the World Series for them in that year.

Fred Zellers will become a Captain in the vast U. S. Army Air Corps, marking up several cross-country speed records.
